GREECE IS

WHO

Writers, content editors, travel-savvy, in-the-know,
creative and imaginative minds,
to give fresh perspectives and contribute to our content.

But also people with organizational skills,
with an eye and passion for photography or video,
who love Greece and are willing to prove it by simply being creative!

GREECE IS

WHY

Because in the present crisis, this could be a dream career opportunity, an ideal starting point to gain work experience or even a perfectly good reason to stay awake at night, thinking of the next great story to tell, the most amazing location or experience to share, the best way to reach out to an international audience and make them fall in love with Greece. Needless to say, this will entail hard work and a positive attitude on your part. But it could certainly be worth the effort.

HOW

Submit to editor@greece-is.com an e-mail (with resume), a sample text or a few photos you have taken, anything else you might consider relevant, as well as ideas and proposals on how you think you can contribute.
